P5: Information Architecture

Project Statement

Undergraduate international students at the University of Washington are held to the same academic expectations and standards as domestic students. However, certain academic activities such as writing papers, giving presentations, and completing applications present additional challenges to ESL international students. With the aim of helping undergraduate international students overcome and alleviate the pressures of these challenges, our project will help international students find peer helpers to edit essays with more efficiency than traditional in person tutoring services.
